Description

The iconic Tower Court building stands on the site of the works where Samuel Courtauld and Company Limited first spun viscose yarn in 1905.

The current building was imaginatively refurbished and in 2001 was awarded a Coventry Design Award for design excellence. The available space and reception have recently been extensively refurbished to a Grade A specification.

Location

Tower Court is well located just 1 mile north of Coventry City Centre on the Foleshill Road (A4113) and is, therefore, ideal for both cars and public transport, access being on a main arterial route into the city centre and out to the M6 motorway which is 3 miles away.
